

Registration for summer classes is now open through May 29.

This summer, the Parks & Recreation department has put together a variety of programming for all ages, including swim lessons, theater, volleyball, wood painting and crafts, several summer camps and more!

Also this summer, Movies in the Park kicks off again; check what's showing in the 2010 Summer Activity Guide.

Registering and paying for programs has never been easier since Online Services was introduced last Fall.
